SPECIAL INTRODUCTORY PRICING FOR NEW OXFORD SUPRESSER PLUG-IN

OXFORDSHIRE, UK: Sonnox has announced special introductory pricing for the new Oxford SuprEsser plug-in. “As a thank you to existing loyal customers and early adopters we have introduced our new Oxford SuprEsser plug-in with an introductory 10% discount” says Sonnox Sales & Marketing Manager, Nathan Eames, “After June 30th the price will revert to the regular retail price of £180 / $355, as a stand-alone unit. We also offer flexible multi-plug-in bundles at attractive discounts. Details can be found at www.sonnoxplugins.com,” Eames said.

Combining the elements of a highly-featured professional De-Esser and a Dynamic EQ, the Oxford SuprEsser offers a basic mode for quick fixes, and an advanced mode for increased functionality and fine-tuning. Designed with an intuitive FFT display and three listen modes, the SuprEsser enables users to effortlessly see, hear and quickly pinpoint problem frequencies. Once isolated, the offending audio can be dramatically reduced or totally eliminated. Rather than simply allowing a frequency to trigger full-band compression, only the offending frequencies are extracted leaving the rest of the mix untouched. Since the SuprEsser can operate at all frequencies, ‘plosives’ and other annoyances can also be removed effortlessly. Additional features include Automatic Level Tracking, Linear Phase Filtering and a Wet/Dry blend control for final balancing.
